

Arbuckle to Stand Trial For Murder; U. S. Is Taking Hand

Prosecution and Defense in Case Square Away for Real Fight—Plea Comes Thursday.

FEDERAL OFFICERS PROBE "GIN PARTY"

May Bring Dry Law Charges Against Comedian—Physician in Case Is Being Sought.

San Francisco, September 16.—With the formal announcement today that Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, will be prosecuted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, actress, following a Labor Day party in the actor's hotel rooms here, both the prosecution and defense squared away tonight to arrange for the trial, the first chapter of which will be written next Thursday when the prisoner will enter a plea.

When District Attorney Matthew Brady in the court of police Judge Sylvan Lazarus today announced that "the people are ready to proceed on the murder charge," he blasted hopes of the defense that Arbuckle would be set free on a $5,000 bond set by the court when a grand jury indictment charging the defendant with manslaughter was returned. It was indicated today that the prosecution's decision to go to trial on the murder charge was a surprise to the defense. From Los Angeles came reports that Arbuckle had already made train reservations for a trip from San Francisco to that city this evening. Murder is not a bailable charge in California.

District Attorney Brady has the support of the board of county supervisors in his prosecution of Arbuckle. It was shown today when the finance committee of that body appropriated $1,500 for immediate expenses of the trial and promised more when needed. Brady asked the board for additional funds, declaring much wealth would be expended by the defense.

Has Partial Collapse. Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, who swore to the murder charge on which Arbuckle today appeared in court, viewed Miss Rappe's body today and is reported to have suffered a partial collapse. The body, according to present plans, will be shipped to Los Angeles tonight.

Robert H. McCormick, assistant U. S. attorney-general in charge of liquor prohibition prosecutions, said that he expected to present to the federal grand jury on Tuesday evidence that liquor was served and consumed at the party given by Arbuckle in which Miss Rappe was alleged to have received her fatal injuries.

In addition to his other troubles, Arbuckle may suffer the loss of his custom-made automobile, said to have cost $25,000. Government officials say if it is shown that liquor was transported from Los Angeles to this city in the automobile it is liable to confiscation.

Subpoenas were issued today summoning Lowell Sherman and Fred Fishback, declared to have been guests at the party, to appear before the United States grand jury here. Sherman and Fishback were questioned yesterday concerning liquor alleged to have been consumed at the Arbuckle party. According to Robert Camarillo, assistant U. S. district attorney, Fishback said more than forty quarts of liquor were consumed in three days at the Arbuckle apartments.

Excelsiter Sought. A new development today was the announcement that Mr. Arthur Beardslee, house physician at the St. Francis, and the physician who first attended Miss Rappe, is being sought by the authorities. Milton U'Ren, assistant district attorney, announced late today that he had not been located and asked the newspapers to assist in the search. Dr. Beardslee is wanted for the purpose of giving testimony before the grand jury regarding certain phases of the medical attention given Miss Rappe, U'Ren said.

Bigger crowds than usual greeted Arbuckle's public appearance today. Following the court session District Attorney Brady gave out a statement in which he explained the reasons for his determination to press the murder charges. Later, in asking the finance committee of the county board of supervisors for a special fund with which to prosecute Arbuckle, he said: "We may have to go to all parts of the United States district court."

Must Appear Today. Arbuckle must appear in the court of Superior Court Judge Harold Loudback tomorrow to be arraigned on one of the two manslaughter charges against him. The charge is that noted by the grand jury Wednesday. The arraignment is merely a formal proceeding, however, but Arbuckle, if he desires, may plead on the charge or the district attorney may make a motion to have it held in abeyance until disposal of the murder charge.

HARDWICK FAVORS Six Murder Indictments Issued Against Strikers; Fairfield Found Guilty

Chief Executive Declares Immediate Change in State's System of Taxation Necessary.

10,000 WITNESS GREAT CELEBRATION

Pulaski Dedicates Memorial Bridge to World War Heroes With Appropriate Exercises.

By JAMES A. HOLLOMAN, Contributing Staff Correspondent, Savannah, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Speaking before approximately ten thousand persons assembled from all sections of Georgia to witness a memorial bridge over the Ocmulgee river here today, Governor Thomas W. Hardwick declared that immediate tax revision was of paramount importance in the state and that he would continue to advocate adoption of the new system of removing taxes from lands and placing them upon individual earnings.

This method of taxation, the chief executive declared, would place the burden of support of the state government on property. His address was delivered in the Pulaski courthouse to an immense audience. The other principal speaker was General Walter A. Harris, of Macon, who confined his eloquent address to the patriotic sentiments aroused by the significance of the occasion.

Beautiful Monument. The Pulaski bridge, which is a standing monument to the boys of the county who both offered and gave their lives to the building of a great world democracy, was opened formally with one of the greatest celebrations ever witnessed here.

The ceremonies were attended by not less than ten thousand people. More than one thousand automobiles lined up during the day, coming from Doody, Dodge, Houston, Laurens, Bibb and all adjoining counties. Hundreds of visitors came from Savannah, Augusta, Atlanta and other cities in the state.

It is said that such a large crowd had never gathered in this section of Georgia before, the event not only being one of wide interest by reason of Pulaski's wonderful enterprise in its inception and completion, but also because of the cheerful disposition of the people generally as reflected in the recent advance in cotton cultivated largely to the success of the occasion.

The bridge, built of concrete and steel, is 7,500 feet long, forming a "U" shape, as it extends to the connecting roads across the Ocmulgee span. The structure cost $247,000, of which the federal aid amounted to $120,000. It was constructed under the supervision of the Georgia Highway commission.

Atlanta Is Asked To Bar Arbuckle Pictures Forever

"Kindest Thing Public Can Do for 'Fatty' Is to Forget Him," Says Mrs. Ottley.

Not only until "the case pending against him is settled," but for all time, is the extent of boycott Mrs. John K. Ottley, chairman of the state library commission, would see placed on films of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, now under indictment for the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a moving picture actress.

NEED OF REFORMS IN POLICE FORCE FREELY ADMITTED

John S. McClelland Assures Council Committee of Early Increase in Efficiency of Department.

ORDINANCES OF SIMS AND COUCH REVERSED

Two Papers Called for Abolition of Detective Department and for Other Changes in Force.

Admitting a recent era of inefficiency in the force, and pledging 100 per cent improvement in the next six months, John S. McClelland, as chairman of the special investigating committee from the police board, Friday afternoon appeared before the police committee of city council and assured that body that the police board was hard at work on its efforts to bring about needed reforms in Atlanta's law-enforcing ranks.

The committee then went on record as opposed to the abolition of the detective department, by voting to reverse the ordinance of Councilman Walter A. Sims, calling for the abolition of the detective department, as well as the substitute ordinance offered by Councilman J. Allen Couch, which also asked the abolition of that department, and went farther in asking the creation of an office of "supervisor" to take the place of the present first assistant chief—the chief of detectives, office now held by A. Lamar Poole.

Pledge Committee Support. Just at the conclusion of the meeting, Councilman W. D. Hoff, a member of the councilman police committee, offered a resolution which pledged the support of that committee to the police board in its reform efforts, but also expressed to the board the wish of the committee that the promises of betterment be fulfilled.

Councilman Couch, the only member of the committee holding out for abolition of the detective department, expressed himself as dissatisfied with the distribution of authority at the police station, and said that he believed the chief of police should be better acquainted with the workings of all departments than he is at present. Mr. Couch specified that he meant this as no criticism of Chief Beavers, and added that the present chief had not had opportunity to study the departments under him as thoroughly as he should.

The admission from Mr. McClelland that there was inefficiency in the department came at the instance of Mr. Hoffmann, who asked the direct question: "There is, despite all reasons for it, a bad case of inefficiency at the police station, isn't there Mr. McClelland?"

Promise Greater Efficiency. "Yes, there is, and the special committee of the police board is rapidly doing what it can to get at the root of the matter. We do not believe that the abolition of the detective department is a good thing, but there are things which can be done and we confidently believe that we can increase the efficiency of the force by 100 per cent."

$18,000,000 Is Sliced From Tax Revenues By Senate Committee

Sinn Fein Puts Faith in Coming Meet of Cabinet

Three Outstanding Features to Be Reported to Upper House in Revision of House Bill.

Schedule Reduced From 65 Per Cent Maximum to 32 Per Cent—Early Consideration Sought.

Washington, September 16.—Revision of the house tax bill virtually was completed today by the senate finance committee which, under the present agreement will report to the senate a measure having these outstanding proposals:

Retention of present rates on express packages and oil by pipe lines and retention of the taxes on freight and passenger for the calendar year 1922, only at half the present rates of 3 per cent and 8 per cent, respectively. The house proposed repeal of all these taxes as of next January 1.

In agreeing to the house maximum surtax rate of 32 per cent the senate committee adopted today a rearranged schedule of rates under which individuals having incomes of from $5,000 to $6,000 would be relieved of the present surtax of 1 per cent. Beginning with incomes of $6,000 and ending with those of $20,000, the rate in each bracket would be reduced 1 per cent. In the brackets from $20,000 to $34,000, the existing rates would be increased 1 per cent and in the brackets from $34,000 to $66,000 the present rates would stand. Incomes of $66,000 or more would be taxed at the maximum rate.

Members of the committee explained that through this plan and the increased exemptions allowed to heads of families and on account of dependents there would be a reduction of the income taxes all along the line except in the case of single men having incomes of $5,000 or less.

The loss in revenue through the rearrangement of the surtax rates was estimated by treasury experts at $18,000,000, making the total annual loss in individual income taxes $178,000,000, including $30,000,000 through reduction of the maximum surtax rate and $70,000,000 through increased exemptions to heads of families and on account of dependents.

Chairman Penrose announced today that in offering the bill in the senate he would ask that it be made the unfinished business of the day, bringing early consideration. He was of the opinion that its passage would not be long delayed. After the senate acts the bill will go to conference for the composing of differences between the senate and the house.

Senator Smoot, of Utah, a republican member of the finance committee, plans to offer in the senate as a substitute for the whole measure his bill in which is incorporated a manufacturers' tax plan. This measure has the support of a number of manufacturers' associations.

Real Happiness.

A great multiplicity of material things do not create happiness. Many of the happiest people I know have very little with which to be happy, but much to be happy for—health, life, opportunity. To live in the most glorious country in the world, in the best time of all history, surrounded by friends and with a chance to love, to help, to work and to be useful, the opportunity to make the world a better place to live in—these are the things that make us truly happy. Why, the humblest of human beings has an infinite number of things to make him happy if he will only stop to consider them.—Marden.

The Weekly Market Basket.

VARIETY, THE SPICE OF LIFE. Years ago, when every one had a kitchen garden, the herb corner was the special care of the housewife, for she realized that not only the savories of her meats and soups depended upon her herbs, but frequently the charm of her cakes and confections as well. Moreover, though she may not have known it, she was unwittingly supplying her family with some of nature's own medicine when she gave them parsley, the diuretic which acts on the kidneys, thereby assisting in waste elimination; chives, which stir up the liver, that on the glands and are a general tonic.

Even today it is not at all difficult to obtain the enticing food flavors that make eating something more than a necessity, for nature is bountiful, and the market and roadside combining to furnish a variety of herbs.

CONSERVE FOR WINTER. If possible, herbs, like all other foods, should be used fresh. To this end some of the best plan is to grow in the house in window boxes, while others may be obtained from large markets throughout the country. It is an easy matter to put up or dry almost any of the herbs. To preserve bees preserved if the herbs are kept dark and the receptacle is air-tight. UNUSUAL SEASONINGS. There are cases when a food needs the enlivening touch of nothing so much as sour or sweet-sour pickles. Capers are invariably suggested to accompany lamb or fish, but they are rather expensive and October, which brings an abundant crop of nasturtium seeds, makes possible a good substitute. Pickled nasturtium seeds may be used instead of capers, either plain as a relish in salads or as a decoration for salads or canapés. Cucumber pickles of medium size may be sliced very thin lengthwise almost to the bottom, spread out in fan shape and used to garnish baked beans. Finely chopped, they add a good note to boiled or mayonnaise dressing. INEXPENSIVE SEASONING AND THEIR USES. The following suggestions for inexpensive seasonings, though not exhaustive, are arranged so that they can be cut out and pasted on the various receptacles. If the labels are lightly shellacked on the cans can be washed. Fines Herbes. A combination of herbs minced together, made of a teaspoon of parsley and a half teaspoonful each of marjoram, savory, chervil and a little sage. Sprinkled over broiled or pan-fried fish, placed in the fold of an omelet, strewn over shirred eggs or serve with lettuce or tomato. Use in stuffing for baked cabbage, tomatoes or game. Mint. Use fresh in mint sauce, cabbage and mint salad, drinks as orange-mintade, orange-mint salad or hot or iced tea and fresh or dry in a casserole or duck, apple jelly or gelatine, canned or dried pea soup and with peas. Parsley. Use sparingly fresh or dried and freshened with omelets, scrambled eggs, any chopped meat, broiled tomatoes, mushrooms, buttered potatoes, in butter sauce of fish and in soups and salads. Dill. Use fresh or dried and freshened in egg salad, plain salads, cream soups and on broiled fish. Sage. Use fresh or dry with beef, chopped meats or pork, stirred into plain corn meal mush for frying and occasionally with cabbage, string beans or spinach cooked with salt pork; also in bread dressing for pork, beef and lamb. Thyme and Marjoram. Use with light meats, such as turkey, broiled squabs, pan-cooked chicken, with fish, in bread dressing and with boiled beans. Tarragon. When fresh, mince and sprinkle on plain salads, use in chicken, fish and veal salads or sprigging on broiled fish. Use fresh or dry in making tarragon vinegar. Horseshoe. Use with heavy meats mixed with a little vinegar and sugar or as a sauce made with stock and crumbs; beat into butter and spread on broiled or pan-fried fish, or use in sandwiches; add to pickled beets or beet and cabbage salad. Bay Leaves. Use sparingly in meat soups. Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

If You Must Buy Groceries

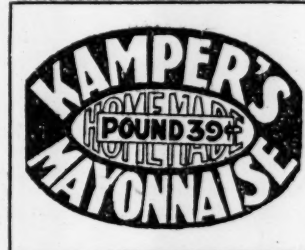

Why Not Buy the Best?

There is a BEST in everything and there may be some things in which you feel that you cannot afford the best, but in foods it is different. The average family buying the best articles of food will find that the total difference in their monthly bill is so little as to be hardly noticeable and in many instances no difference at all, due to the fact that the quality goods are more nourishing, more satisfying, and so farther, in this, however, quality should not be confused with fancy. You will find this element of quality applying to plain corn meal and white side meat, just as it does throughout the entire grocery list. Buy quality, whatever you buy.

When you buy from Kamper's you always get quality—and in addition you get every service that goes with a modern and properly conducted food store—Telephone Service, Delivery Service and a charge account to those who are deserving of it.

Being More About The Doctor's Wife And Mrs. Jones

As we were saying—The Grocers' Organization became peeved because Bill contributed a couple of Hams to the Ladies' Club's Festival, notwithstanding the fact that the Ladies' Club and the Grocers' organizations differed on a local issue. And when Mrs. Jones and Dr. Smith's wife dropped in for their week's supply of Bill's Bacon and Lard, the Family Grocer said there was Nothing Doing in That Line—which meant Bill's Line. "What's the matter?" inquired Mrs. Jones. "Isn't it Good Stuff? You always said it was."

The Man Behind the Counter emitted a loud Hem and a couple of Haws.

"Well, yes," he admitted. "But—" "But what?" inquired Dr. Smith's wife. "Well, you see," said the Grocer, "we don't carry Bill's goods any more. But we have some Very Fine brands Made in Chicago."

"And why don't you carry the Hometown goods any more?" insisted Mrs. Jones, who is one of those Terrible women who Want to Know the things they Ought to Know. "If they are Good Goods and Made in Hometown, why should we buy from Chicago, especially as I notice the Price is Higher? Does the Chicago packer pay any Taxes in Hometown?"

"You see," said the Grocer, "Bill and Us had a Disagreement over a Local Issue."

"Who is Us?" inquired Dr. Smith's wife. "Us is the Grocers' Organization," explained the Man behind the Counter. "We are going to Teach Bill a Lesson."

"I get the Idea, but I am not Sufficiently Impressed," said Mrs. Jones. "Speaking Personally, I do not Care for the way you wear your Hair, and I am told on Good Authority you Voted the Wrong Way in 1916, but I am Interested Only in the Goods You Sell, the Service You Give, and the Prices You Charge. And I Want What I Want When I Want It."

"But how will you Get It when We Haven't Got It?" inquired the Grocer, with a Smile of Triumph.

"I'll tell you," said Mrs. Jones. "What I'm going to do is—"

Drain the seed well and place in a glass jar, cover with vinegar, heat to the boiling point and close the jar tightly. In a few days the seed will be ready for use.

In the Sewing Room.
Just as soon as the boy or girl can creep there should be a romper waiting. It may be fashioned from any of the regulation romper materials, the collar and cuffs of a contrasting material adding a bit of color.

The 1-year-old's coat may be made from a lightweight flannel or cashmere, from ponce or soft silk. The skirt section joins the top part by a heading on the order of a ruffle. The little sleeves may be set in or cut kimono and there is an orkney collar, embroidered to match the turn-back revers on the little French cap.

The small boy is ready for the first school days in a practical suit, consisting of striped trousers, a white shirt, buttoned onto a waist of plain material with collars and cuffs of contrasting material.

For the early autumn days, when the weather is still balmy, the suit

Little Things I Have Learned About Cornstarch.

In making gravies and sauces cornstarch used for thickening will greatly improve the flavor. When eggs are scarce and several are used a teaspoon of cornstarch may be substituted very satisfactorily in place of one egg. To prevent cornmeal much from sticking, stir a little cornstarch in with it.

To prevent icing from running off while being spread, lightly dust cake with cornstarch.

A little cornstarch added into juicy fruit pie such as cherry, plum, etc., prevents its running over. A pinch of cornstarch in the salt cellar will prevent the salt from flowing.

The Letter Box.
Miss A. M. Griffin—The latest frozen fruit salad is made by taking canned apricots, pears, cherries or any fruit you may desire, pack the can (unopened) in ice and leave for at least six or eight hours, remove open and the contents will slide out. Cut the frozen fruit in slices and place on a lettuce leaf and garnish with mayonnaise. Pineapple is delicious, and you may use any thin sliced fruit.

Mrs. G. H. Madison—Menu terms: Espagnole means in Spanish style; macedoine, a mixture of several kinds of vegetables. Sometimes applied also to fruit mixtures; cotelette, cutlets or chops.

Mrs. D. G. T. Madison—To cream butter for cakes always heat the mixing bowl with sealing water. Wipe and put in the butter. It will cream much more quickly.

Mrs. D. E. G. Georgia—If the silk is thin cover the buttons with first with outting flannel or scraps of any thin woolen goods.

Mrs. S. K. J. Dalton—To remove axle grease from your dress rub well with hard soap and lukewarm water.

Mrs. S. C. V. LaGrange—To clean your wretched rug, rub with a wool rag moistened with any thin oil, such as paraffin or kerosene. The rug will be nearly dry when ironed. Turn wrong side out and cover with a piece of muslin, which may be damp, according to the amount of moisture left in the goods to be ironed.

To the many homemakers who have sent stamped envelopes, two little books mentioned last week I wish to state that a new edition will be off the press in a few days, and copies will be promptly sent.

FAIR WILL BREAK RECORDS IN 1921

In our history. The cash prizes for the most meritorious exhibits in all departments have been increased to a point which will attract many additional displays.

The cattle, poultry and sheep and other live stock exhibits will be of a character, unsurpassed. The boys and girls' club work will be a great feature. Already representatives from more than a dozen states have entered the International Club Judging contest, which promises a larger entry list and more keen competition than ever before.

Boys' Fair School.
"The Boys' Fair school will again offer the boys of Georgia and surrounding states a wonderful opportunity to study the many different features of the world. We have the advantage of expert instruction through lectures and demonstrations held in connection with the National Hog and Cattle show and the International Club Show Judging contest."

"These varied departments will make for an educational exhibition second to none in the annals of fairs."

"Now for the entertainment features of the 1921 program. We have effected arrangements for the most delightful performance ever held in front of the huge grandstand at Lakewood. Here all sorts and characters of performers will display themselves for the edification of the thousands of fair visitors."

"The speed program this year will achieve new records. By offering increased purses we have been able to add to our entry list the Gray Cloud's greatest horses. You will without a doubt find the 1921 race program the greatest exhibition of horse racing ever seen at Atlanta. Automobile racing will be another exceptional feature this year. With the world's greatest and most daring speed pilots, and the auto polo contests which have proved so popular in the past, will be repeated on even a more extensive scale. More sensations than ever before are assured."

"The fireworks program will be the most elaborate ever seen at the Southeastern fair and a display will be fired each night. Thousands of dollars will go up in a mammoth pyrotechnic spectacle for the pleasure and delight of the fair visitors."

"This is merely a brief outline of important features of the great 1921 program. Of course, there are other details which cannot be completed until within a few days of the fair, but we are in a position to assume that the 1921 Southeastern fair will be an epochal event in the history of American fairs, and a national institution so to speak."

Washington, September 16.—Drastic economy cuts were announced here tonight by the shipping board as the result of its work during the administration of Chairman Lasker.

Staffs have been reduced on an almost unprecedented scale. When Lasker took over his duties the total Washington personnel apart from the remainder of the United States and Europe numbered 8,324. This number has been reduced to 6,358, Chairman Lasker announced, making a total reduction of 1,966 persons and reducing the payroll from $18,852,796 to $12,952,690.

The payroll now stands reduced by $2,941,106 which includes the retention of 382 officials with combined salaries of nearly one and a half million dollars.

The reductions are not confined to Washington alone. Lasker announced. He said that during the next month he intended to reduce the staffs of the United States and the rest of the United States to proceed at once to Europe to reduce the staffs there from 159 to 98—a reduction of five hundred per cent.

ATLANTA PUGILIST AND HOBO QUEEN
JAILED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, September 16.—(Special.) Frank Dugan, a pugilist from Atlanta, and Miss Helen Morley, aged 21, both of Chicago, were arrested last night as they emerged from a box car in the south yards.

The girl was dressed in men's clothing, but her French heels and pink and white complexion betrayed her to the police.

The girl said she had been working in a department store in Columbus, but grew tired of the monotony and desired to see something of the world. As a measure of safety she decided to wear men's clothing, but Dugan said everybody in the hobo colony knew instantly she was a girl.

"I ran into her in Port Wayne," said Dugan. "I had heard of her, and let me tell you, she is strictly on the square."

"I mingled with all sorts of men, bums and hoboes, I suppose you call them," said Dugan. "It is a single exception they treated me as a lady."

The girl and Dugan had been traveling together three days, sleeping in barns, and beating their way in box cars. The girl was sent home today and Dugan, after being closely questioned by the police, was set at liberty.

Local promoters say they have no record of Frank Dugan.

ent within the next six months," was Mr. McClelland's reply.

Mr. Couch, while accepting the police board now in office, stated his further belief that in the past there had been too much interference with the police force from that body. Dr. C. J. Vaughan, chairman of the police board, took issue with him in so far as the present body is concerned.

Dr. Vaughan also said that the fact that the police force and the detective force had recently been under fire of severe criticism had labored against their efficiency.

"When these things have slackened," he said, "we will be able to better to bring about the reforms we know to be needed." Both Mr. McClelland and Dr. Vaughan stated that the recent transfers of Lieutenant Bob Waggoner and seven other detectives to the uniformed ranks were for the good of the service. The other recommendations of the special committee to the police board at its meeting last Tuesday night were read to the police committee Friday afternoon.

Annual Migration.
The committee from the police board asked that the co-operation of the mayor and city council, as well as that of all Atlanta, be given the police board in its proposed clean-up, especially since the time will soon be here when "the annual migration of crooks" from the northern states to the south will begin.

Things mentioned by Mr. McClelland as needed to increase the efficiency, aside from other details regarding the personnel which will arise, were the installment of a telephone switchboard at police station and the pensioning of some of the older members of the force.

It was a far different homecoming that the victims had anticipated when they sailed several months ago for England to prepare and bring back the monster dirigible, the disaster to which on a trial flight, sent forty-two heroic men of two nations to their untimely death.

Far out at sea, the Dauntless was met by a destroyer division of the United States navy. As it neared port, the escort was augmented by a fleet of seaplanes, representing the arm of the service for which the victims gave their lives. As the funeral ship came up the harbor, the forts thundered a salute, church bells tolled on the Brooklyn and Staten island shores and passing craft dipped the colors in reverent salute.

Guard of Honor.
The Dauntless proceeded directly to the navy yard in Brooklyn where British sailors tenderly carried the bodies from the deck of their craft and delivered them to the keeping of their former comrades in arms on the pier. Tonight the flag-draped caskets were under the watchful eyes of a guard of honor in the yard chapel, where tomorrow they will be rendered the honor that the navy pays to its heroic dead.

Fifteen caskets, each draped in an American flag, were carried on what is known as the after superstructure deck of the Dauntless.

A monster gun, its muzzle shrouded in funeral caskets, stretched over the bows, arranged in three rows on the warcraft's deck.

At each corner of the deck as the vessel was warped into its pier stood an armed sentry with head bowed and arms reversed. Forward of the platform was a non-commissioned officer, and at an officer in full dress uniform having a rank equal to that of Commander Maxfield. Both of these officers stood at attention, with heads uncovered until the caskets were finally removed from the ship.

Crew at Attention.
On the decks of the cruiser the entire crew of 400 men with the exception of those on duty were drawn up to attention. On the quarter deck was a guard of the royal marine light infantry, standing rigid with reversed arms.

A silence, almost sepulchral in effect, hung over the funeral ship as she proceeded up the harbor. Except for the marking of the guns, as they spoke 21 times in the usual salute of courtesy given by warcraft entering a foreign port, the only noise was the swish of water at her bow, the occasional clanking of machinery and the command, given in muffled tones.

When the Dauntless was made fast, her commander, Captain Gilbert Stephenson, and his staff, together with the American officers on board took their places near the ship end of the gangway. A whistle sounded and the British marine guard snapped into "present arms." Every member of the crew from Captain Stephenson down, simultaneously came to salute.

Present Arms.
Eight British blue jackets then lifted the casket containing the body of Commander Maxfield to their shoulders, and, closely followed by a bare-headed British officer, it was slowly carried down the gangway. As the body left the ship the marine guard on the pier presented arms and the heads of hundreds of spectators were uncovered.

Each was carried down the gang plank, was covered with a wreath of violets and other flowers, the gift of British officers and organizations and friends of the deceased. The flowers were preserved in cold storage during the voyage and brought out today for the first time.

Two officers, who were to have made the trip home on the ZR-2 but who were not on board when the bodies were delivered, accompanied the bodies. They were Lieutenants C. A. Tinker and Telford R. Mull.

Public memorial services will be held at the navy yard at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The body of one of the victims, J. T. Hancock, of Shiloh, Mich., was delivered to his father and buried in England. The body of Commander Emory Cole will later be buried at sea in accordance with his oft-expressed desire.

CITIZENS WARNED TO STAY AWAY FROM KLAN MEET

Louisville, Ky., September 16.—The board of public safety today served notice "on all citizens to remain" away from the proposed meeting of the Ku Klux Klan Sunday night and warned owners of public halls not to rent their places to the organization.

"Should any attempt be made to hold the meeting in defiance of this order," the board's announcement says, "any person who attempts to attend it will be regarded as an unpatriotic citizen and a law violator and will be dealt with accordingly."

Published statements several days ago, attributed to an unnamed member of the clan, said it had 6,000 pledged members in Louisville. On the heels of that announcement, Mayor Smith declared he would use every lawful means to prevent the organization of a Klan in Louisville. Full page advertisements in a morning paper announced that a Rev. Eddy would address a Klan meeting Sunday on the purposes of the Klan, which brought the subject to an issue.

FORBIDS MEETING OF MASKED MEN.
El Paso, Texas, September 16.—The city council adopted on first reading yesterday an ordinance forbidding public gatherings or demonstrations of masked persons. Permits from the police chief are necessary for masked balls and carnivals. Supporters of the ordinance say it is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan.

NORWEGIAN GETS
POST AS JUDGE
IN WORLD COURT

Geneva, September 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The assembly and council of the league of nations today approved the choice by the joint conference committee of the two bodies of Judge F. V. N. Reichmann, of Norway, as the fourth deputy judge of the permanent international court of justice. President Van Karnebeck, of the assembly, congratulated the delegates on the final accomplishment of the organization of the court. The assembly decided to send telegrams to the head of states announcing the achievement of an event of such historical and moral importance. The resolution recently proposed by Lord Robert Cecil, asking the council of the league to give greater publicity to its proceedings was adopted by the assembly. Professor Askenazy, Polish ambassador to Great Britain, closed the morning session with an expression of his country's sympathy with the work being done to aid the famine sufferers in Russia.

General debate on the work of the league was completed by the assembly of the league of nations today. The delegates applauded vigorously the announcement that the discussions, which had consumed two weeks, were ended. The assembly will take a recess until it is called together to hear the report of the various committees, some of which will be ready early next week.

The six judges of the international court of justice who have notified the secretariat of the league that they will serve are John Bassett Moore, of the United States; Dr. Antonio S. de Bustamante, of Cuba; Victor Robert Finlay, of Great Britain; Dr. B. C. Loder, of Holland; Dr. Andre Weiss, of France; and Dr. Max Huber, of Switzerland.

General debate on the work of the league was completed by the assembly of the league of nations today. The delegates applauded vigorously the announcement that the discussions, which had consumed two weeks, were ended. The assembly will take a recess until it is called together to hear the report of the various committees, some of which will be ready early next week.

TEXTILE MEN TO SEEK
48-HOUR WORK-WEEK

New York, September 16.—Organizers of unions in the American Federation of Labor will meet representatives of the United Textile Workers of America in Washington next Tuesday to make plans for a campaign to establish the 48-hour work week and increase wages of textile workers in southern mills.

This announcement was made today by Thomas F. McMahon after his election as president of the textile workers at the convention here. The meeting has been called by the federation's executive council and the 110 international unions affiliated with the federation have been urged to aid in the campaign. After the Washington meeting the textile workers and organizers of the other unions will go to Charlotte, N. C., and establish campaign headquarters.

"We will also work for the abolition of child labor in the cotton mills," Mr. McMahon said, "and will demand sanitary working conditions for thousands of men, women and children, who now do not have them."

He declared that the cotton workers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama had been affected by wage reductions ranging from 37 1/2 to 70 per cent and bonuses running as high as 120 per cent had been wiped out. He said the union would try to establish a living wage.

The convention decided today to hold its 1922 meeting at Fall River, Mass., at which time a monument in memory of John Golden will be dedicated. This monument is to be erected from funds obtained through subscriptions by the union.

Thomas F. McMahon, of Providence, R. I., was unanimously elected president of the United Textile Workers of America, succeeded by John J. Byrd, of New York. McMahon, who was a vice president of the organization, had been elected president since Mr. Golden's death. Frank McKosky, of Philadelphia, was elected first vice president. Mrs. Sara A. Conboy was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

James Starr, of Patterson, N. J., was elected second vice president over T. J. Reagan, of Lowell, Mass., by a vote of 90 to 28.

where she was born—declared today that the now notorious "gin party" of Fatty Arbuckle was the rare exception and not the usual thing in entertainments given by the motion picture people in their colonies. She said that such affairs are not customary among the people of her profession.

Forty Quarts Used
IN "GIN" PARTY

Los Angeles, September 16.—More than forty quarts of liquor were consumed in the party in Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle's suite in a San Francisco hotel that ended with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, according to information given today by officials here last night by Frederick Fishbach, a member of the party, it was announced today by Robert Camarillo, assistant United States district attorney.

Twenty bottles of whisky, Mr. Camarillo said, Fishbach told him, were taken in Arbuckle's car from Los Angeles to San Francisco, and while he was at the hotel a case of gin was taken to Arbuckle's suite by a "tall, thin man," and other liquor by "a dark stranger."

Arbuckle's declaration was substantiated, Fishbach's automobile, said to be valued at $25,000, had been confiscated under the terms of the Volstead Act.

Services Will Be Held This Morning
For Dead Heroes

Bodies of Lieut. George Byrd and Privates Yarbrough and Lindsey to Arrive.

Services for 44 dead heroes of the world war, who will arrive at the Terminal station this morning at 8 o'clock from Hoboken, N. J., will be held at 8:15 o'clock by local patriotic organizations and a detachment of troops from Fort McPherson. Chaplain John Randolph, of the fort, will officiate.

Among the bodies to arrive will be those of two Atlantans, Lieutenants George Harold Byrd, Private G. C. Yarbrough, and Private Broadus B. Lindsey.

Lieutenant Harold Byrd, first lieutenant, 327th infantry, who was killed in action under Major Blumhardt and was killed in action at Somme, France, in the Argonne forest on October 12, 1917, on which date his battalion took the town of Somme from the Germans and advanced some half a mile beyond.

Lieutenant Byrd enlisted and went to the first officers' training camp at Fort McPherson in May, 1917, where he received his commission as first lieutenant in August, 1917, and on August 28, 1917, was assigned to duty to the 327th infantry.

Prior to his entry into the service he was connected with the firm of Haas & Macintyre, insurance agents, and lived at Decatur, where he had a large circle of friends.

Lieutenant Byrd is survived by his father, J. J. Byrd, three brothers, Dan and Fred Byrd, of Lawrenceville, Ga., and Joe Byrd, of Okla. His mother is Mrs. Wilbur Blake, of Calhoun Falls, Ga. Mr. L. R. Martin, of Lawrenceville, Ga., is his uncle.

The funeral will be held at Lawrenceville from the Methodist church Sunday at 2 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of the Harold Byrd post, No. 60, of the American Legion, located at Decatur, Ga., and named in honor of Lieutenant Byrd.

The memorial address will be made by C. M. Candler, chairman of the railroad commission, and by members of the Harold Byrd post are requested to meet at the courthouse in Decatur Sunday at 1:15 o'clock.

The body of Private Broadus B. Lindsey, of Social Circle, Ga., killed in France October 14, 1918, while serving with the American expeditionary forces, will be taken to the home of his parents in Social Circle.

Mr. Lindsey was 21 years old at the time of his death.

He was a member of Company C, 128th infantry, 324 division. He had been overseas but a few months when he met his death.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lindsey, he is survived by two brothers, W. O. and Owen Lindsey, and a sister, Mrs. V. Harrison, and Misses Belle, Marie, Ruth and Gladys Lindsey. He was a nephew of F. M. Goff, of East Point.

The body of Private J. C. Yarbrough, of the sixth marine, the 232nd Sydney street, will be laid to rest at the National cemetery in Marietta. He enlisted, soon after war was declared, with the marines and was mortally wounded in the battle of Belleau wood. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. W. E. Tallaferro and Miss Kate, Fred, Bell and Susie Yarbrough, and four brothers, E. W. J. E. W. W. and Henry Yarbrough.

ment," he declared. "As for the trouble in southern textile industry, I expect to witness soon great amelioration of the present situation."

Mr. Gompers will not make an inspection tour of Georgia textile factories as was expected, but is going direct to Washington, D. C.

His complete statement following his conference with Mr. Debs, follows:

Statement by Gompers.

"Warden Dyche was advised that it was my desire to pay a visit to Eugene V. Debs, to which he readily assented and at the same time extended an invitation to me to meet and say a few words of cheer and encouragement to the men incarcerated there."

"I accepted that invitation. I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Debs and conveying the efforts being made which the American Federation of Labor has made, and will continue to make, to secure his liberation. "Whatever differences existed in regard to the war, the war is now over; and in my judgment there is neither justice nor necessity for longer being denied his freedom. I also delivered an address to the inmates, conveying to them a word of cheer, encouragement and hope."

Labor Leaders Confer.

Mr. Gompers was the principal speaker at the conference of labor leaders at the Labor Temple Friday from 11 o'clock until 1 p. m. Jerome Jones, editor of The Journal of Labor, of Atlanta, and the representative of the American Federation of Labor in the south, presided. More than 200 labor chiefs were present.

Mr. Gompers pointed out the necessity of organizing the textile workers of the south stating that it is one of the leading industries in this section of the country. He also stated that Jerome Jones will be his official and personal representative at the conference on textile difficulties, which will be held on the 22d of this month at Charlotte, N. C. Representatives of national and international labor organizations are expected to attend the conference.

The labor resolution, which was unanimously adopted at the conference here Friday, follows: "We, the representatives of labor of North and South Carolina, Alabama and Georgia and Atlanta assembled in conference in the Labor Temple of this city pledged ourselves and those who have the honor to represent to a renewed, vigorous and permanent effort to lower the standard of life and labor of the masses of workers of our republic. We are determined in our opinion that it is better to have resisted and lost than to have resisted at all."

morning, and that he was shot as the result of anger. He said that he did not know any reason for the shooting.

Dr. C. B. Brooks, C. F. Mumphrey and B. H. Aycock, who assisted in bringing Sapp to the hospital, were not present at the shooting. But gathered their information from the words of the men involved and from people who were nearby, they said. They did not agree entirely as to whether the knife Sapp came out prior to or after he was shot.

Reports from Gordon tonight were that the fight was caused by a dispute over a cane patch on the land of J. Fountain. Butler took Fountain's part in the shooting, it is understood. Butler leaves a wife and several children.

him and General Mitchell. The latter's advocacy of a unified air service, taking in both the army and navy and statements before a congressional committee that modern capital had doomed the capital ship, together with other assertions and other activities, led to General Menoher's making a formal request last June for the relief of General Mitchell. Secretary Weeks mediated in the controversy, with the result that General Menoher withdrew his request.

Differences between the two officers, however, persisted. In the meantime, on July 10, 1920, the two officers were held to determine whether aircraft had destroyed the value of the capital ship. General Mitchell maintained the tests had proven his contention and recently submitted a report on the subject. This report now is in the hands of Secretary Weeks, but whether it was disapproved or endorsed by General Menoher has not been disclosed.

Chief of the air service in December, 1918, then being in command of the sixth army corps in France and previous to that having commanded the Fourth-second or Rainbow division. On assuming office in succession to John D. Ryan, he tried to reorganize the bureau of aircraft production with the office of director of military aeronautics.

Remodeling Barns.

Juliette, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—A large number of Monroe county farmers are remodeling their barns so that their corn can be protected from rats and weevils this fall. Carbon bisulphide will be used as a preventive of weevil damage and the barns will be so renovated that they will be rat-proof.

It is estimated that the rats and weevils have been destroying thousands of dollars worth of grain in this county annually. This chemical cannot be used in the ordinary barns in service in this section, but it is said that it does not cost very much to make the necessary changes. It is believed that next year's crop will produce this fall the biggest corn crop in years and that most of the farmers will have a great deal to sell after supplying themselves.

WEEKS TO CONFER ON FORD'S OFFER

Washington, September 16.—Secretary Weeks will confer Monday at 10 o'clock with engineers representing Henry Ford on the offer submitted by the Detroit manufacturer for the purchase and lease by him of nitrate and water power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

After discussion with the engineers it is understood Mr. Ford personally will come to Washington to talk with Secretary Weeks.

The conference Monday was believed to center upon certain objections raised by Secretary Weeks to provisions in the Ford offer. These will be explained by the secretary to the engineers, who, it was said, would advise Mr. Ford, probably before his conference with Mr. Weeks.

Details of the offer made by C. E. James, of Chattanooga, Tenn., for the Muscle Shoals property were made public by Secretary Weeks and show that Mr. James proposed to pay $5,000,000 for the plant and under a 97-year lease pay a rental on power developed at Wilson dam and dam No. 2 on a horse power basis.

Rental Payments.

The rental payments proposed by James amount to one dollar per annum average horsepower the first year; $1.50 the second year; $2 the third year; $2.50 the fourth year; $3 the fifth; $3.50 the sixth; $4.50 the seventh; $5.50 the eighth; $6.50 the ninth and thereafter.

All taxes on government property and equipment would be paid by the government.

"I would not ask the government to guarantee any specified amount of power," James' proposal asserts. "I would want them to put in the electric equipment capable of producing 400,000 horse power."

"If the government put in additional dams above Muscle Shoals in the Tennessee river to aid navigation, all the way to Chattanooga to a boating stage of nine feet, and six feet Chattanooga to Knoxville, the horse power would run to 800,000 at Muscle Shoals. If so, the government would receive rental on 800,000 horse power, the government to have the right to equip the plant to 300,000 horse power. If it desired to do so—I to take the increased power as produced at above rate."

800,000 Horse Power.

"The concrete foundations in dams ought to be capable of installing a total of 800,000 horse power machinery, but only install 400,000 horse power now, government to have free 200 horse power current to operate lock gates.

"I would operate nitrate plants for fertilizers on a basis of 3% per cent profit and keep in good condition plant No. 2, subject to be turned over to the government in case of emergency."

In a supplemental proposal James asked for the option, in the event his proposal was accepted, of building a high dam for power and storage in the Clinch river at some point near Kingston, Tenn., so as to increase the flow of water at Muscle Shoals and take care of loss of current on wire line and make the electric current more regular between Muscle Shoals and Kingston, Tenn.

Ability Not Demonstrated.

Commenting on the offer made by Mr. James, Secretary Weeks said that although the Tennessee had brought a great deal of money into that community he had not demonstrated his ability to finance the Muscle Shoals project. The secretary said the bid failed to cover cost of necessary construction work which must be made. He said the $5,000,000 was not sufficient to cover the cost of additional work on the project and that the $12,000,000 which Mr. Ford offered for future development was "not nearly enough." He added that the future development of the properties must be considered by the war department before the project was finally disposed of.

HARDWICK FAVORS TAX REVISION

many members of which, including Chief Engineer W. R. Neel, were present at the dedicating.

Coxes Speak.

The acceptance of the bridge was by Howard E. Coxes, Pulaski's representative in the general assembly, in a speech of beautiful thought and expression.

The bridge bears the bronze tablets, one in memory of the boys who died and the other in honor of the boys who went to die if need be, but who were spared the supreme sacrifice. The ceremonies included the unveiling of these tablets. The barbecue and basket dinner was spread on the court house lawn.

The exercises, which began at 11 o'clock, were presided over by Frank B. Waterman. The stage of the auditorium was decorated with flags. In the center of the rear of the stage was the huge service flag bearing the stars for 390 Pulaski county sons who volunteered their services in the world war. The service stars were arranged on the flag in the shape of bars, carrying out the general design of the flag of the confederacy.

Besides the speakers of the day, the maid of honors, sponsors, the military escort and the little pages for the maids occupied the stage. The sponsors and maids of honor wore fluffy white organdies and white hats. Red, white and blue ribbon flowed from buttons on their shoulders.

Harris' Tribute.

The invocation was delivered by Chomble Aquilla. H. F. Lawson, W. R. Neel and W. A. Crossland, federal engineers, made short addresses.

The orator of the day was General Harris. His audience, which packed the auditorium to the windows, doors and rafters, sat motionless as he paid tribute to the men in khaki.

"Dead within him is the soul of the one who look upon this 1,300 feet of steel and concrete and feel no admiration and no awe," he stated.

"But not in the beauty of its spans and arches; not in the wonder of its trusses and its girders; not in the majesty of its masses and masonry and metal will this bridge speak to the generation yet unborn."

His messages shall be read on these two bronze tablets, one on either side of its approach. One tablet is dedicated to the sons of Pulaski who gave their lives for the cause and the other is dedicated to those who gave their services.

General Harris eloquently paid tribute to the dead and to the living and to the cause which they so gallantly served. He ended his oration with a plea for peace.

The bridge was christened by Mrs. David McGuffee; the tablet to those who gave their lives was unveiled by Miss Willie Mae Holt, the sister of a Pulaski county boy who was killed in action.

The tablet to those who offered their lives was unveiled by Miss Louise Richardson.

The maids of honor were Misses Ella Fleming, Ruby Simmons, Stella Lee Conner, Alice Bartfield, Mae Markert, Susie Maud Chalker, Estelle Ragan, Mrs. April Anderson. The school escort was composed of Tom Lancaster and Willie Pate. The maid of honor was Bill Meadows, Glenmore Pate, Jr., and Otha Mathews. During the intervals the Shrine band from Macon played popular patriotic selections. They led the parade to the bridge and from it.

MORE EVIDENCE OFFERED INQUIRY

as to the cause of the wreck on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, near Atlanta, last week, your investigators cannot be considered impartial, because they are members of labor unions which are now striking against this property.

"Patterson, who is here now, is a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, one of the striking unions. He is not impartial and has shown himself to be a partiality."

Request withdrawal of present investigators and assignment of non-partisan, impartial representatives of commission to make this investigation."

Shortly after the joint state and federal investigation of the wreck began when evidence was being taken at a session held at the capitol strong feeling between Inspector Patterson and railroad attorneys manifested itself. While Conductor W. M. Ross was being examined, Inspector Patterson began to ask him questions about the brake appliances on the train. Attorney Reuben Arnold, of counsel for the railroad, objected on the ground that extended questioning of impartial subjects was not in order. He said the position taken by the inspector indicated that the railroad was on trial instead of there being simply an investigation to determine the cause of the wreck.

Sent Here by I. C. C.

Inspector Patterson was sent here by the interstate commerce commission. He was accompanied by several assistants. He is assistant chief of the bureau of safety of the interstate commerce commission.

In announcing the discovery of the missing piece of the rail, Colonel Bugg issued the following statement:

"Up to the time of the closing of the hearing by the governor's commission none of the missing parts of the rail had been found, but yesterday it was recovered by the track foreman repairing the roadbed."

"The portion blown out is intact in one piece, is bent upward and shows conclusively that the force which tore it out was applied from underneath and could have been the other force have an explosive. The missing piece was found about 90 feet from where the explosion occurred and in the direction the train was moving."

Chairman Candler, of the commission, appointed by the governor, said Friday the commission has nothing to give out as yet. The commission is awaiting completion of the transcript of the evidence taken at its hearing and when this is ready a meeting will be called.

America is more than ever interested in the affairs of all continents, if she is above all occupied with wishing regulations upheld.

However, do not believe that while she disdains to sit at Geneva, America regards entirely with detached curiosity all that is happening there. The United States realizes that the league is growing organization, and that even though it is still unprovided with really efficacious means of action, it may sooner or later become an international force.

And regarding the problems the league is studying, America is so far from misunderstanding the importance of some of them that she is attracted to Washington the conference which will discuss the gravest of them—disarmament.

the date for the opening of the peace parleys.

The Dail Eireann, called into session at the same time, may show that moderate opinion, which has grown much stronger in the present crisis, has reached sufficient proportions to beat down any extremist attempt to force the issue, and certainly will be strong enough to prevent an actual rupture of the truce. It is believed the Irish leaders will wait until Lloyd-George's promised message after he has consulted his colleagues before announcing any further action.

It is predicted that the premier will return to London during the latter part of next week, and that he will call parliament into session to discuss the government's policy.

May Ask Election.

It is also rumored that Lloyd-George may decide to go to the country on the Irish issue, calling for a general election in which he could seek public endorsement of his Irish policy and secure support for his future operations.

Observers in Dublin point out that a settlement has now been rendered more difficult because Sinn Fein is pledged to De Valera's policy.

"If Lloyd-George wants war, he can have it. But he can't get us to break our oath of allegiance to Ireland as a preliminary to the conference," is the tone taken by one high republican leader.

DE VALERA SETS UP HIS POSITION

London, September 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Eamonn de Valera telegraphed Premier Lloyd-George at Garloch, Scotland, tonight, expressing surprise that the premier did not see that Ireland's cause would be irreparably prejudiced if she entered the proposed conference without making her position quite clear.

Mr. de Valera's telegram said: "I received your telegram last night and am surprised that you do not see that if we on our side accepted a conference on the basis of your letter of September 7 without making our position quite clear Ireland's representatives would enter the conference with their position misunderstood and the cause of Ireland's right irreparably prejudiced. Throughout the correspondence that has taken place, you have defined your government's position. We have defined ours."

Urges No Prejudice.

"If the positions were not so definitely opposed there would indeed be no reason to be discussed. It should be obvious that in a case like ours there is to be any result the negotiators must meet without prejudice and untrammelled by any conditions whatever except those imposed by the facts as they know them."

Sutton Champions Lower Street Car Fare for Children

Superintendent Willis A. Sutton, of the city schools, expressed himself Friday as heartily in sympathy with the movement inaugurated by the members of the Forrest Avenue Parent-Teacher association to secure reduced car fare for Atlanta's school children.

This movement was begun at the first fall meeting of this association, and Mrs. M. E. Ailes, president, has been appointed a committee of one to lay the matter before the board of education. Mr. Sutton told Mrs. Ailes Friday that he and his office were heartily in sympathy with the project and would give it every possible aid.

Several members of the Forrest Avenue association pointed out that school children in other large American cities were given reduced rates on street cars and that Atlanta is one of the few cities where this is not done.

"It is a subject that strikes home to every family in Atlanta," said Mrs. Ailes. "When you consider the amount spent by children in car fares, you recognize it at once as an important item in the family budget. Practically every child who attends high school spends two car fares a week—14 cents—and this amount should be reduced."

"We are going to throw our full strength into this effort, believing it to be worthy of the co-operation of every parent in Atlanta, and we are going to call on others to help us."

TWO ARRESTED, AFTER ROBBERY OF TRAVELING MAN

Following an alleged attempt to rob a traveling salesman from West Durham, N. C., while riding with him in an automobile at Cain and Spruce streets Friday night, two men giving their names as W. J. Davenport, aged 20, of 267 Central avenue, were captured by police and are being held at headquarters in default of $200 bail, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Mr. Burke, who was struck in the head, he states, with a soft lead bullet fired by Davenport, is in an automobile with three strangers with whom he had formed an acquaintance during the day. He was struck unconscious by the bullet and was taken away by the men who took a watch and $5 from him.

Akron, Ohio, September 16.—Five persons were held in connection with the murder of Harry Sinclair, 40, Akron sportsman, who was killed Monday morning while en route between Cleveland and Akron with another man and two women.

PROSPERITY SEEN IN MONROE COUNTY

Juliette, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Farmers, merchants, bankers and industry generally are beginning to see an era of prosperity ahead as a result of the prevailing price of cotton. Monday's market for the staple was at a minimum cost. They expect their crop to yield about 12 cents for the very best grade, and they gauged their expectations accordingly.

The crop is a "cheap crop." It was made cheap, but it is selling at a good price. Twenty cents will set a large portion of Monroe's 1921 crop and a good price for the whole of the harvest.

There is a universal spirit of optimism among Monroe county people as a result of the condition of the cotton market and the effect of this spirit is already making itself felt in trade channels.

Farmers are buying liberally, in addition to paying up their debts, for the fact that they have been without for months past have been withdrawn from sale and planters who had declared their intention of abandoning cotton farming have changed their minds. There is, too, a tendency among a certain class to speculate and some citizens have already garnered huge profits in the futures market. It is reported, but this is discounted, that the business interests and it is thought will have no effect on conditions generally.

SERVICES TO BE HELD FOR W. B. COX AT HOME

Funeral services for Willoughby B. Cox, a well-known citizen of Atlanta, who died Thursday at his home, 64 Briarcliff road, following an extended illness, will be conducted at the home at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Rev. S. R. Belk. Masonic ceremonies will be held at Piedmont lodge, No. 59, F. & A. M. Interment will follow at West View cemetery.

Mr. Cox was 67 years old.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. T. W. Harley, of Quincy, Fla.; two sons, W. A. Cox, of Miami, Fla., and P. W. Cox, of Atlanta, and two brothers, Hardy and Jesse Cox, of Quincy, Fla.

Mr. Cox was some years ago forced to retire from business because of ill health, but prior to his retirement was well known in local business circles. He had extensive real estate interests in Florida. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and of Piedmont lodge, No. 59, F. & A. M. He was a member of Trinity Methodist church.

TO OPPOSE PLAN TO ELIMINATE STOPS

Juliette, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—People of this section are opposed to the plan to let the Southern Railway company to eliminate stops on some of its trains between Atlanta and Macon and to shorten the traveling time to Jacksonville. Delegates from Stockbridge, Jackson and Locust Grove have already presented oral arguments to the railroad commission against the petition of the railroad to abandon these train stops and it is believed other towns will protest also to the commission.

Three hundred American soldiers who fought in the world war are serving sentences in French civil prisons for various infractions of the laws of that country.

PROGRESS IS SHOWN BY GENERAL STAFF

Washington, September 16.—Substantial progress is being made by the army general staff, acting in co-operation with the states executives in developing the national guard along lines of the new organic law designed by congress to make that body the first reinforcement of the regular army in time of war.

The department up to September 1 had reorganized and given recognition to 12,400 national guard units aggregating 124,000 men, an increase of 46,000 approximately, since January 1. The authorized strength also had been increased in the same period from 208,153 to 225,000.

The national guard divisional units, or their substitutes, which participated in the war, have been reorganized and three additional divisions have been organized.

The basic plan for reorganizing the guard, adopted by the general staff, provides for the creation of sixteen divisions and three additional divisions have been organized.

The organization of these 18 divisions is reported to be about 66 per cent of completion. The old twenty-seventh was near the top with 92 per cent and the thirty-sixth the most backward in reorganizing its units with 23 per cent.

While the procuring of national guard officers is left largely in the hands of the states in peace time, the war department keeps a check on commissioned officers. In the last six months 1,556 officers have been given federal recognition, bringing the total to 6,128.

Carried Chalk Away From School; Now He Pays for It

Savannah, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Superintendent Carleton Gibson, of the Savannah schools, today received a $2 bill—the corners torn off—by mail with a letter from a former student, who declared that years ago he had taken chalk from the school building and had formed an acquaintance during the day. He was struck unconscious by the bullet and was taken away by the men who took a watch and $5 from him.

Henderson Urges Church Principles For Industries

London, September 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arthur Henderson, labor member of the house of commons, in discussing humane needs in modern industry before the World's Methodist conference this morning, declared the problem of just distribution of wealth remained unchanged. If this was to be accomplished, he said, the churches must see that Christian principles were applied in industry.

"The time has gone when men and women could be treated as cogs in the machinery of wealth production," Mr. Henderson asserted. "The churches must assert the fact that the worker is first, a man with a human claim to a full life. This is the path to industrial peace."

Mr. Henderson's speech was greeted with cheers and other speakers reiterated his advice, urging the churches to stand for a more just distribution of wealth.

F. M. Larkin, of San Francisco, described the system in Kansas of compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

Judge Charles B. Ames, Methodist Episcopal church, south, declared that the church could not settle industrial problems and could only preach the doctrines of Christ to the disputants.

The conference adopted a resolution urging Methodists everywhere to wage relentless warfare on labor, working first for a law affording local option so that the power of the state could be brought directly in the hands of the people.

"YOUNGER SET" LIVING TOO FAST A LIFE, SAYS JURY

Decatur, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—In submitting its report to Judge John B. Hucheson Friday, the DeKalb county grand jury warned parents that alarming conditions exist among the young people, and urged them to take steps to remedy the situation.

"We are living in a fast age," the report said, "and our sons and daughters are traveling at a pace which leaves them no time to think. They are unable to stop, they are unable to throw a cloak of righteousness about their childish and immature impulses, and means to influence them to be more modest in their dress and speech. We are responsible for this condition, and it is up to us to curb it."

The report also stated that DeKalb county was overrun with bootleggers and illicit distilleries. Fines are not stopping this form of crime, the presentments say, and urge that all violators be given summary sentences. The report also requests the sheriff to enforce the prohibition law, unless the law is signed by reputable citizens of the county.
